Fund Manager's Comment

The CMMF returned 16.90% in Q1 2024 compared to 12.48% printed in Q4 2023. Money market rate and yield on various T-bills maturities went slightly upward amid Central Bank of Nigeria's hawkish stance amid high inflation rate and depreciation of the exchange rate. This presented an opportunity to boost returns on the fund as we keyed into T-bills space at a good rate. We also took position on the short to mid end tenors of quality high-yield Commercial Papers.

Strategy

In H1 2024 our expectation for money market rate and yield on various T-bills maturities are slightly upward, hence we would exploit this situation to boost Fund returns as we continue to position in mid-term maturities. Notably, we would position in Fixed Deposit placement to balance the risk of Weighted Average Maturities (WAM) and reward of high returns.

We will also take position on the short to mid end tenors of quality high-yield CPs.
